

How Managed Services Fulfills the IT Needs of SMBs

SMBs must balance a range of challenges in managing their IT function because they don't have the skills or resources required to fully meet their needs. To address this problem, many businesses have turned to the support of managed services providers (MSPs). Below are the top drivers why SMBs are leveraging managed services.

Source: CompTIA, "IT Opportunities in the Professional Services Vertical" November 2015